

Maurice Cheng,
Chief Executive Officer, Institute of Payroll
Professionals (IPP)

In September 2005, Maurice was appointed Chief Executive of the IPP.

Maurice began his career in market research, before moving into professional education and training in the early 1990s and most recently into professional institutes themselves. His background includes varied experience in large and small organisations within both the commercial and public sectors.

Over the past five years, Maurice has played a critical management role in both the Institute of Healthcare Management (IHM) as CEO and previously the Chartered Institute of Management Accountants (CIMA) as Managing Director of CIMA Enterprises, working on strategy, membership services, publishing, training, and service re-branding.
